Interest

Interested in commercial photography such as fashion and advertising work. In this area of photography, the photographer can express his creative ideas to the fullest as everything is crafted and constructed from scratch. The only accidental success one might have is the random interaction of these constructed elements at the moment the frame is captured.

My favorite inspiration are from photographers such as Guy Bourdin, Terry Richardson and Richard Avedon. They often bring very fresh insights in the field of photography they specialize in which inspires me to look at ideas differently each time.
